

Biographic and professional information

Dr Martin Fehr, M.D.
Department of Medical Oncology and Haematology
Cantonal Hospital St. Gallen, Switzerland

After graduation from the Medical School of the University of Innsbruck, Austria, received training in General Medicine and afterwards underwent specialized training in Medical Oncology and Haematology in the cantonal hospitals of Chur and St. Gallen, Switzerland, and the university hospitals of Basel, Switzerland, and Southampton, UK.

At the department of Medical Oncology and Haematology of the Cantonal Hospital St. Gallen he is currently responsible for the autologous cellular therapies – the local autologous transplantation and CAR T-cell therapy program - and the lymphoma service. For the Swiss Cancer Institute (SCI, former SAKK) he acts as a liaison to the European Mantle Cell Lymphoma network (EU MCL) and is an active member of the EU MCL.